KOLOA OFFICE MAY BE SHORT

SERIOUS HUMORS AFFECTING POSTMASTER BEGO ARE IN CIRCULATION.

Smother rumors regarding Manuel A. Begos, postmaster at Koloa, Kauai, are in circulation and it is alleged that Inspector Hays who is now away at Koloa, has discovered a shortage of $27,000 in his accounts. Begos, who is a Portuguese by birth, not only runs the post office but he has a general store and is a cane planter as well. He has been in business in Koloa for twelve years past and has enjoyed the best possible reputation for square dealing in the past.

The post office work itself has been looked after by John P. Spaulding, a young half-white, for whom of course Begos would be responsible in any event.

Such a large shortage in a post office at Koloa seems at first to be remarkable but it is stated that the office does a large business in sending money through to Japan from laborers on the plantations.

CONTEST OF WILL MAY BE BITTER

J. ALEXANDER YOELL LEAVES MOST OF HIS ESTATE TO CHILDREN OF FIRST WIFE.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 25.—A bevy of pretty and fashionably gowned women assembled in Judge Kerrigan's court yesterday to participate in what promises to be a bitter will contest.

They were the daughters of the late J. Alexander Yoell, who had been twice married. The heirs by the first wife (who is dead) occupied one part of the court room while the progeny of the second Mrs. Yoell took seats at the counsel table in the front.

J. Alexander Yoell died last July at the age of seventy-six. By his first wife he was the father of three daughters. Mrs. Evaline Amelia Levy, Mrs. Caroline Theobald and Miss Alice Yoell. By the second wife there were seven children, four daughters and three sons, namely, Mrs. Emily P. Dunn, Miss Gertrude Ellen and Beatrice Ethel Yoell of this city, Mrs. Mary Genevieve Parkhurst of Honolulu, John H. Yoell of this city and William A. and Herbert A. Yoell of New York.

The contest of the will is instituted by Gertrude and Beatrice and Mrs. Emily Dunn, all of whom were in court yesterday, together with Mrs. Parkhurst, who has come here from Honolulu to uphold her sisters' contention, that at the time of the execution of the will in January 1904, their father was unduly influenced and insane.

The decedent had been separated from his second wife. Prior to the separation, he had made provision for her and hence did not bequeath her any of his estate. Although an estate valued at $250,000 was left, the children of the widow were cut off with legacies of $5,000 each and the bulk of the estate given to Mrs. Emily A. Levy, Mrs. Caroline Theobald and Alice Yoell, because, as expressed by the testator, "the children of his first wife, especially Mrs. Levy had been kinder to me and rendered me more service." Mrs. Levy was appointed executrix.

Mrs. Dunn and John H. Yoell were cut off entirely because in the words of the testator "they were advanced more than their share during my life." The jury having been completed last evening, the case will be continued this morning at 10:30.

KAU STILL LACKS RAIN

LIGHT SHOWERS FALL IN KAU WHILE HAMAKUA HAS HEAVY DOWNPOUR.

Rain has fallen in the Hamakua district of Hawaii. News from the big island was brought this morning by Purser Conkling of the steamer Mauna Loa which arrived from her run to Hawaii and Maui ports. There has been a heavy rain in Hamakua for about ten days past but no rain has fallen in the Kau district. Light showers have prevailed in Kona. The vessel experienced good weather. She brought a large cargo of assorted stuff including sugar, cattle and coffee.

She brought a good sized crowd of passengers back today among them being U. S. Judge S. B. Dole and court clerk Maling who returned from the holding of the United States district court at Hilo. The Mauna Loa will sail on her next outward trip at noon on Tuesday. A number of whales were sighted off Kawaihau by the officers and passengers of the vessel yesterday.

The friends of Dr. Hauxhurst of the S. S. Coptic will be pleased to learn of a new and more satisfactory berth that he has secured. He has passed the examination for the marine hospital service and has been assigned to the United States hospital at Nagasaki. He has been surgeon on the Coptic for several trips and previous to that time, was surgeon on the S. S. America Maru. Dr. Hauxhurst is still with the Coptic and will go out on her next trip, leaving her to take his new assignment.
